Report That the Commission Will Meet in Quebec in September.

Governor General Will Be the Guest of Chocolat Menier at Anticosti.

Ontario Dairymen Making Selections For Display at the Pan American.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Ottawa, July 2.—It is reported tonight that the joint high commission will meet in Quebec in September, unless in the meantime the Ontario elections are announced.

M. Menier, the chocolate king, has invited the Governor-General to visit him at his place in Anticosti. His Excellency has accepted and will visit the island on the 12th of July.

J. A. Ruddick, assistant to the Dairy Commissioner, leaves for Toronto on Thursday, where he will form one of a small committee representing the dairymen of Ontario, who are to select Ontario dairy products to be shown at the Pan-American exposition. Should the experiment succeed, it would mean competition of both cheese and butter will be held in September. The winning selections will also be shown at Buffalo. The Ontario dairymen are paying all expenses.

Dr. Montzambert, director-general of public health, and Dr. McEwen, chief veterinary inspector for the Dominion, have been delegated by the government to attend a conference called by the King to be held in London on July 22, to consider the question of the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

Mr. Birkett, M. P. of Ottawa, was examined for discovery before the Master in Chancery this morning, in connection with the election petition against him. Nothing special was developed.

Reece Young, of the village of Cache Bay, Lake Nipissing, has wired to Ottawa for assistance, owing to the fire on Saturday, which rendered 200 people destitute and homeless.

This was the worst day for heat that Ontario has had since the present warm spell commenced. The atmosphere was muggy, with hardly a breath of air stirring.

Dominion customs collections show a slight increase over last year. The approximate total of receipts is $29,000,000.

The Canadian Underwriters' Association have written to the city council protesting against the show parades of the fire department whenever visitors come to town.

Collision On Grand Trunk

Two Freight Trains Meet Head On at Bowmanville Bridge.

Young Woman Killed and Another Injured By Lightning at Knowlton.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Knowlton, Ont., July 2.—(Special.)—A bad railway smashup occurred on the Grand Trunk yesterday afternoon, when a head-on collision took place on the bridge just west of the station. Both were freight trains, several cars were smashed to splinters, and fire set in to complete the destruction. The town fire brigade turned out, and by gallant efforts succeeded in saving the bridge, which would otherwise have been destroyed. Nobody was hurt; the damage will reach $40,000.

Montreal, July 2.—(Special.)—The late Senator Villeneuve left $25,000 to found a chair in Laval university.

Toronto, July 2.—(Special.)—Gov. Galt, son of the late Chief Justice Galt, arrived from Winnipeg this morning to attend the funeral. The funeral was represented by Judges Osler, McLennan and Street. The funeral was private, but many citizens nevertheless attended. Among many beautiful floral tributes was a handsome wreath from the Winnipeg Rowing club.

Knowlton, Ont., July 2.—(Special.)—Miss Florence Black, landlady at Mrs. Pitt's distributing home, and Miss Naomi Kilbride were both struck by lightning during a severe electrical storm this morning. Miss Black was instantly killed. Miss Kilbride's injuries are considered serious.

Montreal, July 2.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the International Philatelist society yesterday, W. Kelsey Hall was elected president and C. H. Fowle, Boston, secretary treasurer.

Kitchener, Ont., July 2.—Capt. Robt. Rowan, who died here last evening, navigated Lake Huron in the early fifties. He afterwards removed to Manitoba, returning to his old home some months ago. Capt. Rowan was born in Scotland, coming to this country at an early age.

LOOKS SERIOUS.

Korea Requests Japan to Close Post Office at Once.

Washington, July 2.—Reports received here from Seoul, say Korea has suddenly requested Japan to close the latter's post office in Korea, and withdraw the Japanese consular staff, thus increasing the tension between the two countries. The newspapers contain veiled allusions to Russian intrigue.

BOYS SUFFOCATED.

Two Dead and Eight More Overcome in Mining Shaft.

Pittsburg, July 2.—Ten boys were caught like rats in a trap in a tunnel leading to the old Keeling mine, owned by the Pittsburg Coal Co., today. Two were killed and eight were overcome by the foul fumes of the place.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Charged With Intimidating C. P. R. Employees.

Peterboro, July 2.—In the preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Edmondson tonight, John Hayes, a bailiff and constable of Arden, was committed for trial upon two charges of intimidating the employees of the C. P. R. and obstructing the free use and maintenance of the railway, bail being fixed at $2,000. The evidence showed that the accused acted as ringleader of a body of thirty or forty men, who came to the railway station on the evening of the 24th ult., and compelled a gang of nine employed by the company as section men to abandon their work on the track by threats that they would blow up or burn their boarding cars, giving them intoxicating liquors and calling them scabs.

BALL TO THE NAVY.

Dominion Day Celebration at Vancouver Has Ended.

Vancouver, B. C., July 2.—(Special.)—A fitting wind-up of the celebration was the ball given in honor of the officers of the visiting fleet at the Hotel Vancouver tonight. The ball proved to be one of the great social events of the year. The guests were so numerous that at times the crush was inconvenient for the dances. The floor was in splendid shape, however, and the music excellent. Among the guests were Sir Henri Joly and Sir Charles Tupper.

DEFIED BY THE RED MAN

Jaka Skin Takes Possession of an Island in the St. Lawrence.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Cornwall, Ont., July 2.—Jaka Skin, the Indian ruler of Colquhoun island, of which he took possession in January last has been arrested after having defied the law for some months. On Thursday warrants for the removal of Skin were received and Chief Cameron and several constables went down to remove the famous red man. Skin informed the chief that if he allowed him to remain until Monday he would get out and not return.

A posse went to the island yesterday afternoon and soon had Jaka and his squaw under arrest, and brought them to Cornwall, where they were lodged in the police station. Owing to the fact that the warrant only called for his removal, and not arrest, Skin was liberated, and he is again in possession of the island. He will be re-arrested.

British Liberals

Crisis in the Party Has Reached an Acute Stage At Last.

A Meeting Has Been Convened For Next Tuesday in London.

Expected That Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman Will Resign As Leader.

London, July 2.—The crisis in the Liberal party has reached an acute stage. This fact has been publicly admitted and deplored by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman.

Although the rumors that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has already resigned the leadership of the party are premature, a meeting of the party has been suddenly convened for next Tuesday, when it is expected he will virtually offer his resignation.

The Imperialist section of the Liberal party, headed by Herbert H. Asquith, formerly Liberal home secretary, has been doing its utmost to enlist Lord Rosebery on its side, but up to the present time the latter has made no sign of meeting its desires.

Lord Rosebery arrived at Vienna yesterday on his way to England. He will arrive in London next Friday. Should he be willing to resume the leadership and support Mr. Asquith it is probable the latter would become the party leader in the House of Commons.

It was understood that Mr. Asquith would have long ago been selected as leader of the Imperial party, had he been possessed of ample means. This financial difficulty would have been surmounted by the resumption of the leadership by Lord Rosebery.

TO SPREAD STRIKE.

Efforts Will Be Made to Include Canadian Northern.

Montreal, July 2.—An attempt is about to be made by the committee of C. P. R. strikers to induce the section men on the Canadian Northern to go out so as to strengthen their cause against the C.P. R. Co.

Death Record From the Heat

Another Tale of Loss of Life and Many People Prostrated.

In Philadelphia the Thermometer Reached the Highest Ever Known There.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., July 2.—Reports received at the weather bureau in this city from throughout the entire area affected by the intense heat, show a continuation of very high temperatures save in a few favored localities where more moderate weather resulted in consequence of thunder storms or other local atmospheric disturbances. No immediate relief of a substantial character is in sight. The rain fall report shows that there has been precipitation throughout the affected area, varying from less than one hundredth of an inch.

Generally speaking the thunder storms which have come have been what is known as "dry storms," so that very little rain has accompanied them.

At St. Louis four deaths and thirty-three prostrations had occurred up to 9 p. m.

At Newark, N. J., 41 deaths and 60 prostrations were reported to 9 p. m.

In Hoboken, N. J., 8 deaths are reported and 52 prostrations.

Jersey City escaped lightly with less than a dozen deaths, about 20 cases of prostrations.

Six deaths took place at Elizabeth, N. J., where there were 15 cases of prostrations reported.

Philadelphia, July 2.—At 3 p. m. today the weather bureau official thermometer registered 107 1/2, breaking all records.

New York, July 2.—From midnight to 11 a. m. a total of 52 deaths from the heat had been reported in Greater New York, nearly all the deaths were adults.

At 2:15 p. m. the weather bureau thermometer touched 99, within one degree of the highest record in this city. At 3 o'clock the temperature had receded a degree, registering 98 at that time.

Pittsburg, July 2.—Twelve deaths and sixty prostrations from the heat were reported between midnight last night and 11 o'clock today, making the number of fatalities 40 in twenty-four hours.

Troy, N. Y., July 2.—There were six deaths from the heat in this city today and seven prostrations. The thermometer reached 104.

Syracuse, July 2.—The death record from the heat is ten.

Will Not Race Shamrock II. Against Karind.

Rothsars, Firth of Clyde, July 2.—Sir Thomas Lipton refuses to entertain the challenge of Kenneth McLan, owner of the Karind for trial races between the Karind and the Shamrock II., but with the consent of Sir Thomas, W. G. Jameson, the well-known yachtsman and representative of Sir Thomas Lipton on the Shamrock II., offers to sail the Shamrock II. against the Karind five matches, each match to be for 5500 a side.

A MINING EXHIBIT.

Efforts are to be made to secure as strong a mining exhibit as possible for the Exhibition to be held in this city next autumn. The committee having the matter in charge met yesterday for preliminary organization. The general plan which is most in favor is something more than the collection of a lot of specimens in cases, but includes the working of mining machinery and representation of the province by districts. The idea is to make this feature of the exhibition as great an object lesson as possible. It is manifest that in view of the presence of His Royal Highness the Duke of York at the Exhibition, anything that can be shown in this way will receive special attention. There will be with the royal party representatives of leading journals from all parts of the English-speaking world, and they will be on the lookout for something novel to tell their readers, who by that time will have had a surfeit of purely ceremonial affairs. If we can get together in Victoria a first-class showing of the ores of the province in such quantities as will impress beholders, and if with them there is circulated something in the way of descriptive literature that will give some adequate idea of what the possibilities of the province in this regard are, very much good will result.
If this department of the Exhibition is to be a complete success, it will be necessary for those directly interested in mining to co-operate with the exhibition management. A mining exhibit is not a thing that can be encouraged by the offering of prizes. It can only be got together through public-spirited action on the part of the many persons who ought to desire to see the mineral resources of the province adequately represented.
We make an appeal to such people with considerable confidence of success.

CANADA AND HER NEIGHBOR.

The relations of Canada and the United States have received considerable attention recently, and there is growing up south of the International Boundary the conviction that the attitude taken commercially towards the Dominion is a mistaken one. The enormous resources of this country are regarded with jealous eyes, for we have in Canada what has come in the United States within measurable distance of its end, namely, a vast and varied supply of the raw materials used in manufactures. It has taken our neighbors a long time to realize this. Their overweening pride in their own land prevented them from recognizing how very near the point of exhaustion some of their principal resources have come, and their attitude towards Canada was after the style of:
"Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" About fifteen years ago Governor Russell of Massachusetts and some others organized a Commercial Union Club, the object of which was to remove all customs barriers between the United States and the Dominion. The attempt fell through. It received some support in Canada, although no political party espoused the cause. In the United States it was given very short shrift. The people of that country would not believe that Canada had anything to offer, which a rich region like the republic could possibly want. It was in vain that writers pointed out that Canada was the best customer of the United States. It was in vain that the immense supply of the raw materials of manufactures to be found in the Dominion was enlarged upon.
Our neighbors persisted in looking upon us as a sort of poor relation, clam-oring to be recognized, and anxious to bask in the sunlight of their favors.
Fifteen years have wrought a great change. It is no longer necessary for a Canadian writer with anything to tell

Pellew-Harvey, Bryant & Gilman

Victoria Opposite Dr. J. J. Hotel about the possibilities of the Dominion to wait upon the pleasures of good-natured publishers, and then only get his manuscript accepted under protest. The pendulum has swung the other way, and papers on Canada, which are not always as accurate as they might be, find ready publication in the leading periodicals.

The business people along the boundary find themselves face to face with altered conditions. They have come within sight of the end of their supply of raw materials, and they know that a little to the north in the Dominion are to be found what they must have, if their factories are to be kept employed. Hence a clamor has arisen for a change. Canada has frequently knocked at the door of Congress, asking for reciprocity.
Some far-sighted people have always maintained that if our government would be content to bide its time, the request would come from the other direction, and there are indications that this may soon be the case. But as we have said, fifteen years have wrought a great change, and Canada is not as ready now as she was a decade and a half ago to make close commercial arrangements with her neighbor.

We are not suggesting that it might not be advisable to take up the whole subject of international trade across the Forty-ninth parallel. On the contrary, we think the subject might be debated with mutual advantage to both countries.
But we would have Canada approach it from a very different standpoint to that occupied when reciprocity negotiations were last in progress. We are no longer asking for favors. We are in a position to give a quid pro quo. Indeed it is not too much to claim that we can get along better without closer commercial relations with our neighbors than they can without those raw materials which Canada can supply in such abundance. We also think that whatever may be done in this line, care ought to be taken that the terms of any arrangements shall be such that we shall not become simply shippers of unmanufactured goods across the border.

"LANES" ON THE PACIFIC.

The United States government has issued a chart showing the "lanes" on the Pacific ocean which steamers in the Oriental trade ought to follow. The chart shows a "lane" from the Strait of Juan de Fuca to the northern end of the Philippines; one from San Francisco to the same point; one from San Francisco to Yokohama and the Philippines. No "lane" is shown from the Strait to the Hawaiian Islands. All the routes are on "great circles," which leads to what on a flat projection, appear as surprising results. Thus the "lane" from the Strait of Juan de Fuca to the Philippines, which takes in Yokohama in passing, runs nearly as far north as the Aleutian Islands; while that from San Francisco swings round sufficiently to join the former some distance north of Yokohama.
The chart shows very clearly the reason why it is so much shorter from Victoria to Yokohama than from San Francisco to the same point, although the California city is almost due east of the Japanese port. The "lanes" are to be thirty miles wide and vessels are supposed to follow them. This plan has been adopted with excellent results on the Atlantic.

CANADIAN AGRICULTURE.

We quoted yesterday from an interview with Mr. Fisher, minister for agriculture, printed in the St. James' Gazette. The Morning Post is at hand with another interview with the same gentlemen. Among other things he told the London paper that the government contemplates a considerable purchase of thoroughbred cattle for use on the Experimental Farms. He ventured the prediction that Canada will supply over 30 per cent. of the agricultural imports of the United Kingdom in 1905, and one-half by 1910. He spoke of the exhaustion of vacant farming land in the United States and foretold that the immigration from that country to Canada will increase.

The minister was asked whether Canada is disturbed by labor troubles, and replied that the country was remarkably free from them, which is correct, but he might have mentioned the difficulty of securing good farm laborers, which is quite a serious matter everywhere in the Dominion. The rate of wages paid, and the opportunity to become themselves land owners might, if properly understood in the United Kingdom, serve the purpose of influencing considerable immigration in this direction of the very kind of men most needed.

The inevitable question as to this being a cold country was put to him, and in making the apparently inevitable answer, he omitted to mention that Canada has on the Pacific Coast a region where the winters are not cold. He might also have said something about other parts of the Dominion as fruit-growing besides Southern Ontario and Nova Scotia. However, what he did say was well said, and very useful. If he shined it was by way of a sin of omission. He mentioned that Canada sends away an average of more than a million barrels of apples every year, chiefly to Europe, but he was obliged to refer to the too common practice among our shippers of carelessly packing fruit. It seems as if the farmers of Canada will never learn the absolute necessity of putting up their goods in the best packages and having everything true to sample.

On the 17th inst., Mr. Joshua Davies will hold an auction sale of the government townsite of Tulameen. Tulameen is situated at Otter Flats at the junction of the Tulameen and Otter creek and is in the heart of the very promising Similkameen mining division. The sale will take place at Princeton, and the terms are one-third cash, one-third in three months, and the balance in six months. With his usual good judgment Mr. Davies has got out some excellent advertising matter.

One of the most interesting pieces of testimony to the progressive ideas of the Czar is the fact that he has overruled his ministers and sanctioned the founding of a new university in Poland.
The reactionary party claimed that the university would be a hot-bed of revolution, but the Czar seems to have decided to see what can be accomplished by trusting the people. He will probably have no cause to regret this action.

The Ottawa Citizen has entered upon a campaign for city improvement much on the same lines as that proposed by the Colonist, that is, that private taste shall be better exercised in beautifying residences. It says that the Countess of Minto has offered a prize for the best kept lawn, and while it acknowledges that very many of the citizens will not compete for such a prize, it thinks the offer will do a great deal of good by stimulating an interest in the adornment of premises. Our contemporary thinks that the fences around ornamental grounds should be taken down, and comments with much approval upon the conduct of such people as have already removed theirs. This is a subject upon which there is a wide difference of opinion. Most people like to have their grounds private, and we confess to a good deal of sympathy with them. At the same time, there is a degree of publicity possible quite compatible with reasonable privacy. At least it is quite possible to make fences, where they are necessary, less of an eyesore than some of those in Victoria are.

The dust problem is one that has given Victorians a great deal of bother, for the reason that our summers are dry and we have considerable wind. The National Oil Register says that the use of oil as a dust layer has passed the experimental stage. It spreads over dust in the same manner as over water, works down through it and hardens into a crust, making a road as hard as asphalt.
We know the disposition of most western city governments to regard nothing as established unless they have proved it themselves, but the experience of California ought to be sufficient in a case of this kind.

A small epidemic of bank failures is in progress in the United States. The explanation seems to be that a number of people have been speculating on borrowed money and that the collateral put up has not in every instance been good.

It was difficult to realize in Victoria yesterday that it could be hot anywhere. We are having a surprisingly cool summer.

WHOLESALE ENCROACHMENT.
NO. III.

Following up Mr. Bayard's letter of November, 1885, to Mr. Ambassador Phipps, it is of primary importance to ascertain if it be based on correct premises. There is no use in dealing with statements which are not founded on facts. In the letter under review, there is nothing on which to build, except the initial point at Cape Chacon. The language of the treaty is correctly quoted by Mr. Bayard, that "The said line shall ascend to the north along the channel called Portland Channel, as far as the point of the continent where it strikes the 56th degree of north latitude." Beyond this the treaty boundary disappears.
It does not suit Mr. Bayard's theory.

No one disputes the correctness of the paragraph which states, "so far as relates to the water boundary, and it is to be remembered as already remarked, that the line so described was intended to leave Prince of Wales Island Russian territory in 1825, and a possession of the United States in 1867." But Mr. Bayard is decidedly in error by stating that "no record has been found in print, or otherwise so far as sought, of the circumstances attending the drawing up of the Anglo-Russian convention of 1825, which would throw light on the understanding of the negotiators of this point; but it may be assumed with confidence that the charts employed in the negotiation were those of Vancouver."

Sir Charles Bagot was the British ambassador at St. Petersburg in 1824, in charge of the convention. His despatches to, and those from the Right Hon.
George Canning, were frequent and distinct on the subject of the boundary line in its direction, course, etc., which fully contradicts Mr. Bayard's statement that no such record existed. A despatch from Mr. G. Canning to Sir Charles, dated 12th June, 1824, unmistakably says: "His Majesty's government have resolved to authorize Your Excellency to consent to include the southern point of Prince of Wales Island within the Russian frontiers, and to take, as the line of demarcation, a line drawn from the southernmost point of Prince of Wales Island from south to north, through Portland channel, till it strikes the mainland at latitude 56 degrees; thence following the sinuosities of the coast along the base of Mount Elias, and then along the 139th degree of longitude to the Polar Sea."

The language of the treaty as signed by the plenipotentiaries, corresponds very closely to the directions sent by Mr.
Canning.

It does not affect the question in the slightest degree, that Cape Muzon, Cape Chacon, or the mouth of Portland inlet should each be 54 degrees, 40 minutes north latitude. The treaty only specified Cape Chacon, the southernmost point of Prince of Wales Island, so that another statement in Mr. Bayard's letter that 54 degrees, 40 minutes, enters the mouth of Portland inlet, and "that the most navigable channel trends thence directly inland, land reason and for to the conviction that it was the intention of the negotiators that the boundary line should directly follow the broad and natural channel midway between the shores presumably Portland canal, and extend, if need were, inland in the same general direction until the range of hills, hereafter to be considered, should be reached (as appears in Vancouver's chart) at or near the 56th parallel," is of no effect.

Mr. Bayard overlooks the fact that the treaty, which he has quoted in his letter, limits the treaty to between the 131st and 133rd meridians of west longitude, whilst Portland canal, which is quoted above as extending inland to near the 130th meridian, is west of the 129th meridian, and cannot be the "broad and natural channel" which it is supposed, or stated to be. Yet Mr. Bayard, adroitly writes: "It is not therefore, conceived, that this water part of the boundary line can ever be called in question between the two governments!"

Then, again, there is an enclosure in Sir Charles Bagot's despatch to the Rt.
Hon. G. Canning, dated St. Petersburg, 17th March, 1824, which is Sir Charles Bagot's ultimate decision to the Russian plenipotentiaries. It contains the following paragraph: "It would appear that a line traced from the southern extremity of the straits named Duke of Clarence Sound (now known as Clarence Strait), by the middle of those straits, to the middle of the straits that separate the islands of the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York and the islands situate to the north of the said islands; thence towards the east by the middle of the same strait to the continent, and thence prolonged in the same direction and manner already proposed, by His Britannic Majesty's plenipotentiary to Mount Elias, or to the intersection of the 140th degree of longitude (since changed to the 141st degree) would form a line of demarcation which would conciliate, perhaps, in a satisfactory manner, the reciprocal interests, present and future, of both empires in this part of the globe."

The reference made to Duke of York Island by Sir Charles Bagot may be taken as corroborative evidence, that the boundary line was intended to pass that island, to the continent at the 56th parallel of latitude. That being the case the boundary could not have its course by Portland canal. It is singular that Duke of York Island has been robbed of its name, and the name "Etolin" given to it instead. There may be some sinister motive in that change, which apparently should not have been made. Another item of corroborative evidence may be drawn from the statement in the treaty that the boundary should pass between the 131st and 133rd lines of longitude—which, as pointed out elsewhere would not allow it to pass by Portland canal, as that body of water is east of the 130th meridian, and could not be reached. Portland canal, therefore, must be abandoned as the eastern boundary of southeastern Alaska, and Clarence Strait adopted.

COMPULSORY

WINDING UP

Report of Proceedings in Court of the British America Corporation.

The London Daily Mail of June 11 has the following account of the court proceedings in the compulsory liquidation of the British America Corporation:

A decision which promises to have results of enormous importance and interest was given by Mr. Justice Wright yesterday.

It was an order that the British America Corporation, the large but unfortunate finance company of which Mr. Whitaker Wright is the managing director, shall not be wound up voluntarily and privately, as the shareholders proposed to liquidate it, but shall receive that public and independent investigation which is essential to the claims of the official eyes that compulsory winding up will bring to bear upon it.

There were down for hearing no less than five petitions—four by creditors and the other by a shareholder—praying for this compulsory winding up order. There was only one occasion to hear one. The first barred down the bid.

Mr. Swinfen Eady, K. C., filed this charge on behalf of Messrs. C. and A. Paul, jobbers on the London Stock Exchange, creditors for £12,571 in respect of shares they had sold to the company.

Mr. Eady submitted that if ever there was a case when the compulsory powers of the court should be exercised for investigating the liquidation of a company, this was preeminently that case. He was a creditor of the company, which was formed with a capital of a million and a half sterling, and in a short time was so insolvent as to be unable to pay its debts.

It had dealt in shares to an enormous extent, involving some hundreds of thousands of pounds, and when the time came for it to pay its liabilities in respect of these shares, amounting, according to the affidavit of the Stock Exchange's official assignee, to £768,000, the company's available cash was only £157. A creditors' meeting called by the directors of the company had unanimously decided that the company ought to be compulsorily wound up, as it was hopelessly insolvent through reckless speculation.

Mr. Upjohn, K. C., for the British America Corporation, said that there were two creditors, whose claims together amounted to nearly £200,000, who were opposed to compulsory winding up. Mr. Justice Wright: But those two creditors are the secured bankers and the London and Globe Corporation, (claimants).

Mr. Upjohn said that but for the failure of the brokers and jobbers last December the British America Corporation would have made handsome profits over their purchases of Kootenay and Rossland shares. This was so particularly in the case of Rosslands, for in open market they had bought shares considerably in excess of the total capital of the Rossland Co. It was still believed that the assets of the company were worth more than was due to legitimate creditors, although, of course, under compulsory liquidation and the forced sale of such assets there would be great jeopardy that fair values would not be secured. The amount due to the Stock Exchange creditors was disputed, it was said to be only £768,000, or anything like it, but about £100,000. This was the Stock Exchange's revenue for the default of the London and Globe Corporation over the Lake View Consols operation.

Mr. Whitaker Wright and Mr. Sinclair Murray having made affidavits in support of the petitions, both were cross-examined.

Mr. Wright hardly looks the man associated with great operations. He is studiously quiet in his dress, and always wears black and white, and his most faintest touch of color in the necktie. His folding eye-glasses are gold-rimmed, and his watch-chain is of that yellow metal the wholesale production of which is Mr. Wright's business, but beyond this he exhibits no jewelry. No is a share and nothing particularly forceful about his appearance. He is stout, and double-chinned, and grey-mottled.

But he speaks like the strong, dominant man he is known to be. To King's counsel he is, although in no way displaying the qualities of a lawyer, as a more Kootenay shareholder, while to the judge he is submissive in a dignified and reserved way, which does not prevent him from pressing home the observations which Mr. Whitaker Wright thinks ought to be made, no matter what his lordship's view may be of the importance or the relevancy of the proffered remarks.

What Mr. Wright had to admit, when pressed by Mr. Eady, was that although he had said he did not, except for the shareholders' sakes, object to compulsory liquidation, yet on the day following the presentation of the petition by Messrs. Paul he and Mr. McCleary had convened a meeting of the shareholders to consider the advisability of a voluntary winding-up. It was a fact that the British America Corporation had taken over liabilities of the London and Globe company to the extent of about half a million. That was before the default of the London and Globe. The only minute about this matter in the British America Corporation book was after the date of the default of the London and Globe; but the taking-over occurred long before the minute was recorded.

Mr. Eady: It is the fact, is it not, that both the London and Globe and the British America Corporation have taken over share contracts that have been entered into by you in your own name?

Mr. Wright: No. The only contract ever so taken over was that for Rossland and Kootenay shares, the contract note for which was in error made out in the name of the company made money by so taking over those purchases.

In ordering the compulsory liquidation, Mr. Justice Wright said it would give an opportunity for proper inquiries to be made whether speculation at the risk of the British America Corporation was carried on not alone for the benefit of that company, but for the benefit of other companies in which persons who carried on such speculation were interested. Inquiry would also be possible as to whether "cornering the market" was a legitimate object for a company of this sort.
